

Partagas

A classic visit when you come to Havana. And even if the cigar represents a priori an interest for a small portion of visitors, the cigar factory will attract everybody. A completely manual process needs more than 500 specialized workers. In the Galera (room where cigars are rolled), the dexterity and celerity of their hands are impressive. But before, when you have just entered the palace of the God Habano, the ammoniac vapors coming from the fermentation of the leaves still fresh will transport the visitor to an atmosphere full of culture, history and craft know-how at the service of one of the most important products for the economy of the country.

Visit to a cigar factory

Limited to 20 person per visit, the groups will be distributed among three different factories: Partagas, La Corona and H Upmann.

The purchase of cigars at the end of the visit is not advisable: H Upmann does not have a boutique, prices are the same everywhere and the great number of purchasers makes impossible an efficient service. Other boutiques can be visited in better conditions.
